

Dear Mommy Dear Daddy!

Dear mommy dear daddy you never planned on me.

And I was your only son.

Even before you knew of him and him of you I wasn't the only one.

Maybe one day we will get to know each other.

Do you think? Well I won't hold my breath too long.

Anyway, it's a real nice thought though.

Where are you now?

Now is such a lonely place.

Where are you now?

I'm living in such a lonely way.

Dear mommy dear daddy you never planned on three.

And for you I was only fun.

Long after you and he and he and you, you had more children and more than just one.

I know everyone has a life of their own.

But, I thought we should make some time.

Are you even curios? God knows I wonder why.

Where are you now?

Now is such a lonely word.

Where are you now?

I'm living in such a lonely world.

I know you've done the best you could.

I pull no punches but, I wonder where,
where are you now?
