

I Could Be What I Wanna Be!

I could be a movie star, if I could get out of this place.

I could be a movie star, if I could just find my way.

I could be a movie star if I had a chance.

I could be a movie star if someone just believed in me.

Maybe I would play a cowboy in a western.

Or maybe I'd be a gangster!

Maybe, I'd be a prankster in a comedy.

Then all the girls would love me, like Jimmy Dean.

And all the boys would adore me because I'm just mean.

I could be a superstar and travel the world in my spare time.

I could be a superstar and attend fancy parties and drink fine wine.

I could be a superstar and rub elbows with the stars to bide my time.

I could be a superstar it's in my dreams all the while.

Then I could be the king of the silver screens.

Then I would be the pretty face in a lover's scene.

Then I could be what I wanna be if I could get out of this place.

And I would be a movie star on the silver screen in a golden dream.

I could be a famous singer if I could just find my way.

I could be the greatest singer. I can't wait for that day.

I could be a famous singer if you just gave me a chance.

I could be a famous singer if I just believed in myself.

Momma told me I was great. Poppa told me it's not too late.

Sister told me not to wait.

Brother told me it's a piece of cake.

Then all the girls would adore me like Sinatra.

Then all the boys would love this blued eyed thug.

Then I would be the main attraction on MTV.

Then I would be a pretty face on the cover of your magazine.

Then I would be what I wanna be if I could just get out of this place.

Then I would write the greatest songs on your music TV.

I Could Be What I Wanna Be!

March 12, 2000