

The Kingdom I Will See

For the Kingdom I will see, at God's will is where I will be.

The mistakes I will make and the promises I will break.

Still this vow I must make.

The Lord's word is nature's tree

Yes the Kingdom I will see.

The day's end right here will soon come and life as we know it will all be done.

And the possessions that we keep with us we will bring none.

Those of us who will see are a numbered sum and the love of He is all we need.

For the Kingdom I will see.

Without him there is the other one and with him there is only worldly fun.

For the Lamb of God is a trusting one.

Keep the evil one behind you and you will never be on your knees.

For the kingdom I will see.
